I. Call to Order

Chairperson Marks called the meeting of the 2011 Reapportionment Commission to order at 2:02 pm.

Chairperson Marks noted that today's meeting is airing live on Oahu, Olelo channel 53. It is also streaming live on Olelo's website. Chairperson Marks also noted that draft plans will be available on the website, at the Clerk's Office, and State Libraries.

She noted that the 13 public hearing dates and locations have been confirmed and that copies of the schedule are in the back at the sign-in table as well as on the website. She also encouraged the public to continue to send their comments via email.

PROCEEDINGS

II. Roll Call and Determination of Quorum

Roll call was taken and all Commissioners were present.

III. Approval of Minutes

Chairperson Marks moved to approve the minutes of the August 3, 2011 meeting. Commissioner Moore seconded the motion with no objections from the nine commissioners present.

IV. Public Testimony – Any interested person may submit data, views or arguments on any agenda item

Oahu Advisory Council Member Smith testified that she received an inquiry from the Democracy Project. It is the only Washington DC based think tank that actively promoted bipartisanship to address the key challenges facing the nation. She also noted that Hawaii is one of seven states that use a non-partisan or bi-partisan commission to handle redistricting, while all other states use their legislatures. She has been contacted by Dr. John Fortier and suggested he contact the Commission as well as the various Advisory Councils. She also noted that the results of the study will be published in the spring of 2012, and will be more relevant to the next Commission.

Commissioner Nonaka asked Oahu Advisory Council Member Smith how she got involved, and she responded that she is a liaison to former Governor Lingle who serves on the Governors' Advisory Council of the Democracy Project.

Ms. Wood testified on her own behalf and stated she filed an inquiry with the American Civil Liberties Union concerning the impact to challenge the decision regarding permanent residency of not including the military, felon, and students in the population count, because of the impact of one person one vote. She noted that the military request services from state and city officials and there are approximately 22,000 members affiliated with the Marine Corps base that are presently not counted and this dilutes their ability to request services. Ms. Wood advised she will inform the Commission of American Civil Liberties Union response.

Oahu Advisory Council Chair Palcic testified that section 25-2(b)(1), Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) states no district shall be drawn so as to unduly favor a person or political party. He testified that the Commission should adopt the "Wheeler Plan" because it does not favor a person. He also testified that it was unfair to label the military as non-resident military.

Mr. Dame testified on his own behalf and asked the Commission as what was going to happen with the earlier plans to draw two sets of maps. One set to reflect total population and the second set to exclude the military, out of state students, and felons. He also asked if the data is still being sought and if the data is adequate to proceed, will the Technical Committee be called back.

Chairperson Marks responded that nothing has been decided. She indicated the Commission is awaiting data from the military, and data has been received from the university. Once the data arrives, the decision to call a meeting will be made, and no decision will be made without the full Commission.

Mr. Dame asked when the data is received, will it be available to the public. Chairperson Marks responded that reports from reapportionment staff will continue to be on the Agenda, and any information received will be shared.

V. Input from Advisory Councils – Discussion and action, if appropriate

Hawaii Advisory Council Chair Arakaki reported that the Hawaii Advisory Council held a video conference meeting on August 1, 2011 at 4:00 pm with 3 members present and 1 excused. Most of the discussion focused on the Attorney General's letter to Representative Herkes. He noted that Commissioner Nonaka has attended every Hawaii Advisory Council Meeting and read the questions to Commissioner Nonaka and the responses provided at their meeting.

He announced their next meeting is scheduled for August 26, 2011, at 4:00 pm via videoconference.

VI. Technical specifications for public submission of proposed redistricting plans – Discussion and action, if appropriate

Project Manager Rosenbrock noted that there were 205 accounts created, and 15 public plans submitted. He provided the Commission the following breakdown:

Congress..... 1 plan

Honolulu Senate 2 plans

Honolulu House 2 plans

Hawaii Senate..... 7 plans

Hawaii House 2 plans

Kauai House 1 plan

He noted there were 17 calls, 3 emails, and 3 in-person requests for technical support. The website now reflects the "proposed" plans.

VII. Permanent resident population – Discussion and action, if appropriate

Project Manager Rosenbrock reported he received data from USPACOM and he will review the data on Monday.

VIII. Technical Committee's Proposed Redistricting Plan(s) – Deliberation and decision making by the Commission

Project Manager Rosenbrock addressed the question regarding the difference between the two proposed Congressional plans, by stating both plans cover the entire Mililani area.

Mr. Jones presented the difference between the two proposed Congressional plans to the Commission. He noted that the "Wheeler Plan" includes parts of Wheeler Air Force base and the "H-1 Plan" included Ko Olina.

Chairperson Marks asked what the deviation difference was for the two different plans.

Mr. Jones responded that "H-1 Plan" had a deviation of 0.1% or 346 people and the "Wheeler Plan" had a deviation of 0.58% or 1,979 people.

The Commission had discussion on the landmark boundaries of both congressional plans.

Commissioner Moore asked Oahu Advisory Council Chair Palcic to clarify his testimony as to how one plan favors a party/person over the other plan.

Oahu Advisory Council Chair Palcic stated that a political incumbent office holder pledged to move into the district she represented and with the "H-1 Plan" she doesn't have to move or sell her house.

Commissioner Hashimoto stated that congressional requirements do not require members of congress to live in the district they represent, only that they live in the state.

Commissioner Masumoto asked what is lost in the area around Ko Olina and along the shoreline. Mr. Jones displayed the population density in the Ko Olina area with a large census block of 32 people, and moving toward Nanakuli there is a census block with 821 people.

Commissioner Masumoto clarified, under the "H-1 Plan", there is a "natural" break between the two congressional areas.

Commissioner Masumoto asked regarding the "Wheeler Plan", if the Wheeler Air Force Base was divided and if so by how many people. Mr. Jones responded yes, and by several hundred people.

Chairperson Marks invited members of the Technical Committee to discuss the two plans.

Commissioner Nonaka stated that he preferred the "Wheeler Plan" because it gives the Commission room to make adjustments after the public hearings. He noted that the "Wheeler Plan" has opportunity to add approximately 8,000 people to Congressional District 1 and still stay within the deviation. He added that he wished the Technical Committee had been able to make Congressional District lines overlap the State House and Senate district lines. There are several places where this can be accomplished without affecting the population. He noted there are some empty census blocks next to the Mililani area which are included in the House Plan but not in the Congressional Plan that can be matched to make it cleaner and easier for people to understand which district they are in and for the Technical Committee to describe it to the Office of Elections.

Commissioner Chipchase stated it was not the intention to split Wheeler Air Force Base in the draft maps. The motivation of drawing the maps was to expand Congressional District 1 and not include areas that were not part of Congressional District 1 without public input.

Commissioner Hashimoto stated that the premise for the "H-1 Plan" was because Congressional District 1 has always encompassed the urban area. She noted that the growth of the island has been out west and that the areas added included residential, condominium, resort, retail and industrial uses that fit into the general nature of Congressional District 1. She noted that she had concerns that the "Wheeler Plan" broke up Wheeler Air Force Base into two congressional districts and it would be easier for the military to deal with one Congressional representative as opposed to two Congressional representatives on their specific kinds of needs.

Commissioner Stone noted that she would be supporting the "H-1 Plan".

Commissioner Chipchase stated that they should look at other communities with more compact districts that better fit into Congressional District 1 like Village Park, Royal Kunia, or all of Wheeler Air Force Base. He noted that the public should testify if they want to be part of Congressional District 1 or not.

Commissioner Nonaka moved that the Commission adopt the "Wheeler Plan" and the plan be put out for public hearing. Commissioner Thomason seconded the motion with Commissioners Chipchase, Moore, Nonaka, and Thomason voting for the motion and Commissioners Hashimoto, Marks, Masumoto, Stone, and Takitani voting against the motion. The motion failed with a vote of 4-5.

Commissioner Hashimoto moved that the Commission adopt the "H-1 Plan" and the plan be put out for public hearing. Commissioner Stone seconded the motion with Commissioners Hashimoto, Marks, Masumoto, Stone, and Takitani voting for the motion and Commissioners Chipchase, Moore, Nonaka, and Thomason voting against the motion. The motion carried with a vote of 5-4.

Commissioner Chipchase moved that the Commission adopt the Technical Committee's Senatorial District Plan. Commissioner Nonaka seconded the motion with no objections from the nine commissioners present.

Commissioner Nonaka moved that the Commission adopt the Technical Committee's House District Plan. Commissioner Stone seconded the motion with no objections from the nine commissioners present.

IX. Update on matters from Reapportionment staff including the computer vendor; problems, if any, regarding the redistricting software; information provided by the public; information from the military and/or from various universities; information from the census bureau – Discussion and action, if appropriate

Project Manager Rosenbrock reported he received data from USPACOM and he will review the data on Monday and let the Commission know what he finds.

X. Executive Session

Chairperson Marks moved that the Commission go into executive session pursuant to HRS §92-5(a)(2) and HRS §92-5(a)(4). Commissioner Stone seconded the motion with no objections from the nine commissioners present.

The Commission resolved to executive session at 2:49 pm.

Reconvene of Meeting

The Commission returned at 3:12 pm. Chairperson Marks moved to go into regular session. Commissioner Takitani seconded the motion with no objections from the eight commissioners present, and with the exception of Commissioner Nonaka who did not return after executive session.

Chairperson Marks advised that during the executive session, the need for future meetings was discussed as well as the issues Mr. Dame raised, in addition to the role of the Technical Committee.

Commissioner Hashimoto stated that because the Commission is constrained for time, at the next meeting the Commission authorize the Technical Committee to continue working as the Commission receives comments from the public so that the Commission does not have to wait until after the conclusion of the public hearings to start working on the changes.

Commissioner Masumoto agreed with Commissioner Hashimoto's statements.

The Commission had a discussion regarding the role of the Technical Committee and future meetings.

XI. Future meeting dates

Chairperson Marks announced the next meeting will be on August 17, 2011, at 2:00 pm in Conference Room 329 at the State Capitol.

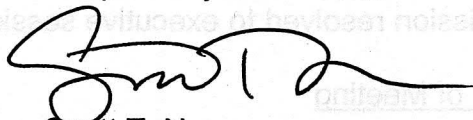

XII. Adjournment

Chairperson Marks moved that the meeting be adjourned. Commissioner Thomason seconded the motion with no objections from the eight commissioners present.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 3:19 pm.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, August 17, 2011 at 2:00 pm in Conference Room 329, at the State Capitol.

Resolution of the
St. Louis Heights Community Association

BE IT RESOLVED: the St. Louis Heights Community Association respectfully requests that legislative redistricting lines drawn by the 2011 Hawaii Reapportionment Commission include our community with our neighbors in Kaimuki, Palolo Valley and Maunalani Heights with whom we share many common interests. Any redistricting plan that splits off our neighborhood should be avoided and we therefore request that the Commission's Hawaii State Senate Plan be modified to reflect this sentiment.

Done this 8th day of August, 2011.

In the officially adopted Reapportionment Commission Draft Redistricting Plan The Community of St. Louis Heighs remains with its Kaimuki Neighbors in the 20th House District, but is moved to Senate District 10 which is comprised largely of Manoa and Moiliili.

The public has 50 days from the adoption of this plan to make comment and suggest changes to the plan to better reflect community sentiment. The Draft Plan was adopted on August 5th. The Reapportionment Commission must adopt and file its Final Redistricting Plan for the State of Hawaii by Sept. 26.

SLHCA Board Opposes Proposed Reapportionment Commission Redistricting that Shifts St. Louis Heights Residents

The St. Louis Heights Community Association Board unanimously passed a Resolution at its August 8 meeting opposing the current proposed redistricting lines drawn by the 2011 Hawaii Reapportionment Commission. The current Commission proposal that was adopted on August 5 moves St. Louis Heights away from Kaimuki, Palolo and Maunalani Heights. Instead, St. Louis Heights is placed with Manoa, McCully, and Punahou in Senate District 10.

The Commission is holding public hearings on the adopted proposal including the State Capitol Auditorium on Wednesday, September 6, at 6:00 p.m. and Kalani High School cafeteria on Friday, September 16 at 6:00 p.m. The public has 50 days after August 5 to comment and suggest changes.

The final plan will be published by the Commission by September 26 and will be effective for 10 years. Data is available at <http://hawaii.gov/elections/reapportionment/>

Residents wanting to circulate a petition opposing the proposed realignment by the Hawaii Reapportionment Commission may get a copy of the petition by contacting Michael Palcic, Chairperson of the Oahu Apportionment Advisory Council and resident of St. Louis Heights, at 921-8294. Petitions must be returned to Mr. Palcic prior to September 2 so that he can submit them to the Commission in time for consideration.

Update on Sewer Project

By Jeff Kalani (Yogi Kwong Engineers, LLC)

In January 2011 a decision was made and funds appropriated to proceed with special repair and rehabilitation of approximately 12,800 linear feet of 6- and 8-inch diameter sewer mains that are not suitable for rehabilitation using standard cured-in-place pipe (CIPP) equipment and methods.

This work, which involves sewer pipe repair, replacement and rehabilitation began in April 2011 and will continue through 2011 and into 2012.

Current, ongoing work includes repair, rehabilitation and video inspection of sewer laterals in the City right-of-way and in City easements within private property. Special CIPP rehabilitation of sewer mains in easements and City right of way is scheduled to resume in the next couple of weeks.

The entire project team expresses thanks to the residents of St. Louis Heights for their continued support and patience on this very challenging and important project!

Hokulani Holds McTeacher's Night at Palolo McDonalds for Civics Trip

Hokulani Elementary School is holding fundraisers at Palolo McDonalds on August 16 and September 13 from 3:00 - 6:00 p.m. to help fund the fourth and fifth graders' Social Studies/Civics trip to the East Coast from September 29 - October 7 (during Fall Break).

Students will be visiting the Statue of Liberty in New York, Independence Hall in Philadelphia, Gettysburg where the famous civil war battle was held, and Williamsburg in Virginia. They will also be visiting the Holocaust Museum, Congress, the White House, and laying a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Washington, D.C.

Jarrett Foundation Dinner Scheduled for October 29

Jarrett Middle School Foundation's annual fundraising Dinner and Silent Auction is schedule for Saturday, October 29 at the Japanese Cultural Center in Moili'ili. Tickets will be $50 per person.

Please contact Tanya Yamada at 733-4888 (Jarrett Middle School) for tickets and more information. Volunteers are also welcome to assist with the event or to join the Jarrett Foundation.

Re: Testimony in support of the H-2 Plan - Congressional Districts

Reapportionment Commission Hearing: Wednesday, August 17, 2011

Aloharr

I am writing in support of the reapportionment plan that includes Ko Olina Resort in District 2 or otherwise known as the H-2 Plan.

This letter is written in opposition to a recently submitted letter by Mr. Ken Williams who is the Executive Vice President for the Ko Olina Community Association (KOCA). Mr. Williams speaks for himself and his employer, Mr. Jeff Stone. He does not speak for the community.

The political arm of the Ko Olina Resort, aka Mr. Stone, is becoming energized to reestablish its maximum political effectiveness. It is a matter of record that Mr. Stone is a strong financial supporter of Congresswoman Colleen Hanabusa. With redistricting in the air, Mr. Stone wishes to maintain his preponderant political influence in the halls of government. Ms. Hanabusa has been instrumental in securing funding and smoothing the political inroads for the development of the Ko Olina Resort. The congresswoman needs to be based in Mr. Stone's backyard. Oops, she already lives there!

I do not object to political self-expression. I do object to being included in Mr. Ken Williams' blanket summary of inclusive acquiescence. Please be advised that the Ko Olina Community Association (KOCA) does not collectively represent the residents of the resort. KOCA solely represents Mr. Stone and his self-interest as a developer.

Representative Commission Hearing, Wednesday, August 13, 2011

Dear Sir:

I am writing to support the H-2 Plan. The H-2 Plan is a necessary and prudent plan that includes the Kona Resort in the H-2 Plan.

The H-2 Plan is written in opposition to a recently submitted letter by Mr. Ken Williams who is the President of the Kona Community Association (KCA). Mr. Williams states that the H-2 Plan is not in the best interest of the community and the H-2 Plan is not a necessary and prudent plan.

The political side of the Kona Resort, also Mr. Stone, is becoming engaged in a political effort to support the H-2 Plan. It is a matter of record that Mr. Stone is a strong financial supporter of Congressman Collen Hanabusa. With this record in the air, Mr. Stone wishes to restrict the independent political influence in the halls of government. Mr. Hanabusa has been instrumental in securing funding and amending the political funds for the development of the Kona Resort. The congressman needs to be based in Mr. Stone's backyard. Open the already closed door.

I do not object to political self-expression. I do object to being included in Mr. Ken Williams' attempt to restrict the political influence of the Kona Resort. Please be advised that the Kona Community Association (KCA) does not collectively represent the residents of the resort. KCA solely represents Mr. Stone and

RE: Support Testimony of H-1 Plan- Congressional Districts

To Whom This May Concern:

I am writing in support of the reapportionment plan that includes Ko Olina Resort in District 1.

The latest census map shows that Ko Olina has enough people and jobs to be part of the urban core with Waikiki, District 1, as opposed to the outer islands and rural communities, District 2.

It also conforms to the following standards and criteria for reapportionment:

- The populations in the two congressional districts are as nearly equal as possible.
- The district is "contiguous".
- The district is geographically "compact".
- The district boundaries follow permanent and easily recognized features.
- The district boundaries coincide with census tract boundaries.

Ko Olina is also the resort component of the Kapolei master plan and shares the same federally assigned zip code.

Please approve Congressional Districts for the United States House of Representatives based on the H-1 Plan.

Subject: Reapportionment for District 1 - H-1 Plan

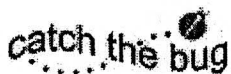

Dear 2011 Reapportionment Committee,

I'm writing to you in support of the reapportionment plan that includes Ko Olina Resort in District 1. Ko Olina certainly fits all of the criteria necessary to be considered part of the urban core as opposed to being part of the rural community.

In addition, we would like to express our strong support of our current district's Congressional Representative, Congresswoman Colleen Hanabusa. Her efforts on behalf of our community here are exemplary and we sincerely hope that we can continue having her represent our community.

Thank you for your consideration and support of the H-1 Plan.

Reapportionment Commission Hearing: Wednesday, August 17, 2011 at 2:00pm

Aloha,

Honu Group Inc., a Honolulu based and locally owned commercial real estate development and management company, strongly supports the Congressional Districts for the United States House of Representatives based on the H-1 Plan.

The H-1 Plan correctly reapportions Ko Olina Resort in District 1 with the urban core of Waikiki as opposed to the outer islands and rural communities (District 2). The latest census map shows Ko Olina as having enough population and jobs to be part of this urban core.

Furthermore, the H-1 Plan follows the standards and criteria for reapportionment. The plan allows for the population in the two congressional districts as nearly equal as possible, the district is "contiguous" and geographically "compact," and the district boundaries follow permanently and easily recognized features, as well census tract boundaries.

Given all of the above, please approve Congressional Districts for the United States House of Representatives based on the H-1 Plan.

Dear Sir:

As General Manager of Resort Management Company, LLC, which provides various management services at the Beach Villas at Ko Olina, consisting of 247 residential and six commercial owners, I am taking this opportunity to express support of the reapportionment plan that includes Ko Olina Resort in District 1, otherwise known as the H-1 Plan.

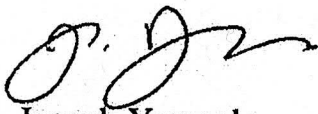

We understand that Ko Olina comprises the resort aspect of the Kapolei Master Plan, and, as such, shares the same federally assigned zip code. Moreover, the most recent census map indicates that Ko Olina has sufficient population and jobs to be a part of the urban core in District 1; it would be counterintuitive to classify Ko Olina in District 2, which consists of the outer islands and rural communities.

Honorable Victoria Marks and Members:
Hawaii Reapportionment Commission
State Capitol Room 445
415 So. Beretaina St.
Honolulu, Hi. 96813

Dear Judge Marks and Members:

As a life-long democrat, my political values were formed early. Primary among them was the art of inclusion by which many segments of our community were brought together in order to achieve what we called the "greater good". It stood in stark contrast to those in our community that sought to exclude those who didn't share their political beliefs. Exclusion was a mechanism to split and thus weaken our community.

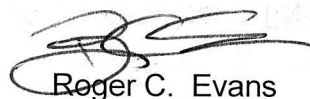

Now however, it seems that you're being told by our State Attorney General, acting on the direction of Governor Abercrombie, that you are to exclude the very households of the men who have stood in harms way, and paid the ultimate price for his benefit, from even entering a voting booth (attached). Please understand just how difficult it is to listen to those in our community express their desire to exclude those locally born who have given the ultimate sacrifice to hear that they were disfranchised. Who speaks for them?

May I ask you to stand firm and count these families. Please let Governor Abercrombie, through our Attorney General and our State Supreme Court tell these families that when they wear the "dog tags" (attached) of their deceased the State of Hawaii has no room as they are to be excluded from the voting booth. Let them split our community.

Importantly, please, do let the Attorney General, Governor Abercrombie and our State Supreme Court tell every single Hawaii military recruiter that they need to disclose, at every high school, that when you join the military in Hawaii you have given up your most precious franchise. You'll not be counted as we treat you the same as an incarcerated felon.

Thank you for listening.

Very truly yours,

Roger C. Evans

It was good for her son to see the picture of his father with the description of him because "it's not just a formal picture," Rachel Suerth said. "It shows their personalities."

Lis Olsen, who is the Army Community Service outreach director and also is in charge of the Survivor Outreach Services Center, said 248 active-duty, National Guard and Army Reserve soldiers with Hawaii ties have died or been killed since 2001 -- the start of the war in Afghanistan. Her goal is to create photo tributes to them all.

But the center also is a place where families can turn to receive counseling, financial advice, or just spend some time with other families who have experienced the death of a soldier.

"That's the Army's goal, that there will be a partnership and then a warm hand-off (to the outreach center) when the casualty assistance officer's duties are done -- so the families will not be forgotten," Olsen said.

Olsen herself lost her son, Spc. Toby Olsen, a Mililani High School graduate, who was killed along with three other soldiers in western Iraq when a roadside bomb hit their Humvee on Jan. 20, 2007.

"The dedication of this new center marks a significant step for the Army in Hawaii," Col. Douglas Mulbury, the commander of U.S. Army Garrison Hawaii, told about 200 people who attended the dedication ceremony.

Mulbury said since late 2008, the Army's Installation Management Command has been establishing Survivor Outreach Services programs across the nation as well as in Europe and Asia to support the families of soldiers who die while on duty.

The new SOS center at Fort Shafter is in a historic building that had been undergoing renovation for the past two years, officials said.

The center represents an increased emphasis on Survivor Outreach Services, which was established in Hawaii in 2008 and now has a formal home at Fort Shafter.

Sonya Miller, who lost her son, Timothy Hutton, to the suspect gunshot wound in Iraq in 2008, said his death "changed us all."

"Tim was such a great part of our lives," she said. "He was the oldest boy. He was a son, he was a brother, he was a fiance. He was a very vibrant person. He was always laughing and joking around. He was so full of life."

The family moved from Montana to Hawaii shortly after his death, and Sonya remembers a particularly difficult holiday.

"My husband didn't know what to do with me," she said. "I was breaking down."

He called a chaplain, who called Lis Olsen.

"It was somebody to talk to -- to know you weren't alone," Sonya Miller said. "It (the SOS center) is really evolving into something very special, and I'm very grateful for that. It's a great support group. I don't know where I'd be without them."

Resolve cause of Afghan deaths

POSTED: 01:30 a.m. HST, Dec 21, 2010

An Army general's lifting of reprimands against three senior officers for a bloody 2008 ambush of U.S. troops in Afghanistan—fixing the blame instead on the lower-ranked son of an Aiea man—reeks of the military brass protecting its own. The incident warrants a thorough congressional review.

The strange conclusions of a report surfaced in May, when Army Gen. Charles C. Campbell essentially rejected the results of an initial investigation of the incident and chose to take no action against the three officers. Since then, the U. S. Army Combined Arms Center at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., has removed blame against the trio, calling their conduct "hardly an example of command neglect."

Instead, the report says 1st Lt. Jonathan Brostrom, the platoon leader, and eight other U.S. soldiers were killed and 27 others wounded in the Afghan village of Wanat because Brostrom's choice of location for an observation post was "potentially fatally vulnerable." Brostrom was a Damien Memorial School and University of Hawaii graduate. His father, Aiea resident David Brostrom, who retired from the Army as a colonel in 2004, is rightly angry about the handling of the investigation, which has undergone twists and secrecy.

Military historian Douglas Cubbison wrote the draft of the Army's report on the incident, concluding that the 173rd Airborne Brigade Combat Team's commanders "had grown complacent."

He added, "In their hubris, they forgot that a new position is most vulnerable in the early days of its formation." He found that the single platoon had "insufficient combat power" to create a new outpost while maintaining security. That assessment was deleted from the Army's final report.

Marine Corps Lt. Gen. Richard Natonski, who headed the investigation of the period leading up to the battle, cited battalion commander Lt. Col. William Ostland, company commander Capt. Matthew Myer and Col. Charles Preysler, the brigade commander, to be derelict.

But Campbell rejected that assessment, asserting that the U.S. casualties "did not occur as a result of deficient decisions, planning and actions of the chain of command."

Sen. Jim Webb, D-Va., said in June that he found it "deeply troubling that the Army has exonerated these officers and in the process rejected the finding of the independent review."

Webb, a highly decorated veteran of the Vietnam War and later secretary of the Navy, should convene the Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on Personnel, which he chairs, to review the incident and the subsequent investigation. The jurisdiction of the subcommittee, which includes Hawaii's Sen. Daniel Akaka among its members, includes conduct of members of the military.

Army Secretary John McHugh advised David Brostrom by letter that 800 pages of "additional materials and relevant evidence" were reviewed by Campbell—but they have yet to be made available to Brostrom.

The explanations given so far have been inadequate, and a congressional investigation is justified.

Subject: DISTRICT RE-APPORTIONMENT

To whom it may concern:

I believe you will find most Ko Olina homeowners strongly oppose any move to allow Colleen Hanabusa to represent this district. This reapportionment, combined with Colleen's longstanding, highly suspect relationship with Jeff Stone presents numerous ethics issues that we believe are not being addressed.

For example, why did Colleen's husband, John Souza, just run for Ko Olina Kai board president if their house is for sale and they're moving so that they can live in the district she currently represents? The reason is two fold. First, they know that if this re-apportionment goes through, any political pressure for the couple to move is removed. Secondly, John can continue to block any Ko Olina Kai homeowner issues that might impact Jeff Stone's cash flow, while he (John) continues to receive exclusive Ko Olina contracts from Jeff.

If reapportionment continues in this manner, Ko Olina residents expect the state to put party allegiance aside and do due diligence investigating the many Jeff Stone, Colleen Hanabusa, and John Souza ethics issues that current exist in Ko Olina.

Victoria Marks, Chair
Hawaii State Capitol
Reapportionment Project Office
415 S. Beretania Street, Room 445
Honolulu, HI 96813

Dear Ms. Marks,

I am a twenty-seven year resident of the South Kona and Kau districts of the Big Island who retired as Postmaster of Naalehu in 2009. Since retiring I have worked as a U.S. Census Enumerator and a Hawaii Public Schools Substitute teacher, while pursuing a Post-Baccalaureate teaching credential. My husband has lived in Kona since 1968 and our 25-year old daughter was born and raised here. We are all registered voters.

Perhaps the Hawaii Reapportionment Commission should anticipate a future legal challenge to its actions by considering Citizens for Equitable and Responsible Government v. County of Hawaii [108 Hawaii 318, 323, 120 P. 3d 217, 222 (2005)], rather than a phantom notion that excluding the transient military population from district apportionment will bring suit from a vaguely defined federal civil rights court. In the 2005 decision, the Hawaii Supreme Court held that the term "resident population" used in the Hawaii County Charter necessarily excludes nonresident service-members and their dependents. Further, the public approved using "permanent residents" for district apportionment by voting accordingly to amend the State Constitution in 1992. The intent of both the electorate and the Hawaii State Constitution is clear: only the permanent resident population of Hawaii should be included in data counts used to draw new district maps. Thus, the State Reapportionment Commission must reverse its decision to include nonresident military and students when drawing new district lines.

The transient military population makes only a partial impact on state services; we "permanent residents," on the other hand, long for the cost-of-living and health care benefits received by military families. Oahu's population might include thousands of such families at any given time, but that island also has sidewalks, sewer systems, and a near-universal power grid. Visit vast areas of the Big Island and you will notice the absence of such basic infrastructure. While we understand and welcome the logistical challenges of living on the Big Island, it is infuriating to see our disenfranchisement institutionalized by the Reapportionment Commission's disregard of the law and the public will. Again, I insist that the State Reapportionment Commission reverse its earlier decision to include Hawaii's transient population, and instead count only "permanent residents" when drawing district lines.

Mahalo for your consideration.

Very truly yours,

STAFF SUMMARY OF DATA SUBMITTED FROM THE MILITARY AND UNIVERSITIES FOR USE IN THE NON-PERMANENT POPULATION
ADJUSTMENT TO THE 2010 CENSUS DATA

The 2011 reapportionment project staff asked for non-permanent population data from the historical data sources to accomplish the constitutionally required population adjustment in determining the permanent resident population.

The staff requested the military through USPACOM to provide a data set of Active Duty personnel and dependents who declare a state other than Hawaii as their home state. The data was provided segregated by U.S. Postal Zip Codes.

USPACOM provided the following counts:

Active Duty:

- | | |
|---|--------|
| • Declares state other than Hawaii as home state. | 47,082 |
| • Declares Hawaii as their home state | 933 |
| • Active Duty dependents in Hawaii | 58,949 |

We are in the process of evaluating the data to determine where these people live. We are then trying to place them in Group Quarters on base; base housing on base or off-base housing through the reported U.S. Zip Code. We are trying to accomplish this in a reasonable and appropriate process.

The staff requested the universities throughout the state to provide data of students who pay out of state tuition.

The universities provided the following counts:

- | | |
|--|--------|
| • Hawaii Pacific University international and mainland students by address. Some of these addresses are associated with military bases or commands | 3,203 |
| • Brigham Young University Hawaii international and non-international students by address | 627 |
| • University of Hawaii System students by U.S. Zip Codes | 10,493 |
| • Chaminade University did not report.
From their website total enrollment 2,781
59% Hawaii resident 41% other than Hawaii | |

Permanent and Non-Permanent Military Residents

The non-permanent resident extraction model used in 1991 and 2001 relied on receiving location specific (address or ZIP Code) residence information for the specific non-permanent residents to be extracted.

In 2011, the data received from the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) does not provide residence information for military sponsors nor does it provide specific breakdowns of permanent and non-permanent residents by location.

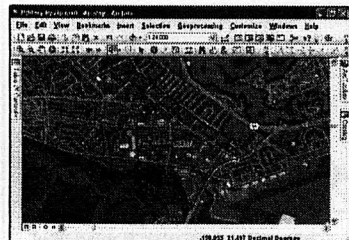

This lack of specific data from DMDC does not allow the model used previously to be used this time.

Examples from Schofield Barracks, Marine Corps Base Hawaii and Joint Base Pearl Harbor will help illustrate.

Permanent and Non-Permanent Military Residents

Data from DMDC for ZIP Code 96857 shows 17,004 sponsors and 968 dependents, for a total of 18,012 military residents.

DMDC does not indicate what portion of the 18,012 are permanent residents and what portion are non-permanent residents.

U.S. Census data for ZCTA 96857 shows a total population of 2,522.

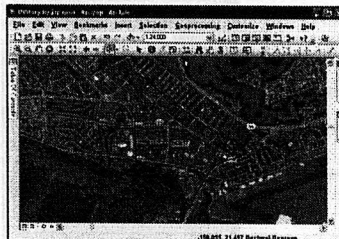

DMDC only reports sponsor duty ZIP Codes and clearly 17,004 sponsors do not live in 96857.

We do not know where these sponsors live nor where they would have been counted by the U.S. Census.

Permanent and Non-Permanent Military Residents

Data from DMDC for ZIP Code 96857 shows 17,004 sponsors and 968 dependents, for a total of 18,012 military residents.

DMDC does not indicate what portion of the 18,012 are permanent residents and what portion are non-permanent residents.

U.S. Census data for ZCTA 96857 shows a total population of 2,522.

U.S. Census data for ZCTA 96857 further shows that all 2,522 residents are living in group quarters.

There is a question whether dependents live in group quarters.

Permanent and Non-Permanent Military Residents

Data from DMDC for ZIP Code 96863 shows 7,019 sponsors and 627 dependents, for a total of 7,646 military residents.

DMDC does not indicate what portion of the 7,646 are permanent residents and what portion are non-permanent residents.

U.S. Census data for ZCTA 96863 shows a total population of 52.

DMDC only reports sponsor duty ZIP Codes and clearly 7,019 sponsors do not live in 96863.

We do not know where these sponsors live nor where they would have been counted by the U.S. Census.

Non-Permanent Student Residents

If extractions to the U.S. Census PL 94-171 census block counts are to be made for redistricting, data on the non-permanent populations to be extracted must also be known or estimated at the census block level.

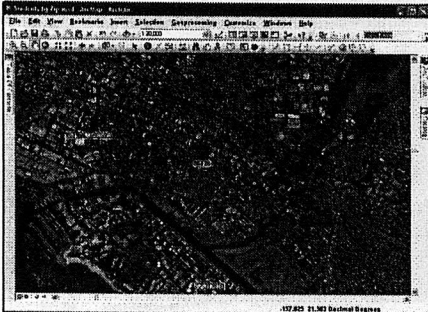

For privacy reasons, data is often only provided at a ZIP Code level.

A disaggregation model is applied to assign ZIP Code-level non-permanent populations to individual census blocks in proportion to the total population of each census block.

An example showing University of Hawaii non-resident student counts for ZIP Code 96826 being assigned to individual census blocks will help illustrate how this model works.
